Notes You Need to Note...

- Five of FSU’s nine qualifiers have 13 combined NCAA Division I Indoor Championships appearances;
- Junior Isaac Grimes was a two-time NCAA Division II Indoor Championships qualifier and the 2019 long jump champion;
- Trey Cunningham is unbeaten collegiately in the 60-meter hurdles and enters the meet ranked No. 1;
- Ka’Tia Seymour, a three-time qualifier, will compete in both the 60- and 200-meter dashes for the second time in three years;
- Four of FSU’s seven men are transfers, including 2019 NCAA Indoor scorers Fabian Edoki and Caleb Parker.

Noles out to improve on ’19 NCAA Indoor finishes

The eighth-ranked Florida State men’s track & field team, fresh off the program’s third consecutive and 13th all-time ACC Indoor title, will send seven athletes into action at the 2020 NCAA Indoor Championships, March 13-14. The meet will be contested at the Albuquerque Convention Center for the first time since 2014, when the Noles men returned from New Mexico with a fourth-place team trophy.

That marked the last time the Noles finished “on the podium” at an NCAA Championships meet. That could well change. FSU tied for sixth last year with just four qualifiers and has spent virtually the entire season among the nation’s best in the USTFCCCA’s national ratings index.

The FSU women, who have been in and out of the top-25 all year, arrive in ABQ at No. 28 with just three qualifiers. The Noles tied for 35th last year behind a third-place 60-meter dash finish from Ka’Tia Seymour, who returns.

What Noles 2 Watch 4

Among the noteworthy Florida State storylines to follow this weekend are:

- Junior, three-time 60-meter hurdle qualifier Trey Cunningham is the No. 1 seed and unbeaten against collegians this season. The Bowerman Watch List star could become the Noles’ first indoor national champion since Derryniversus (60m dash) and James Harris (high jump) won 2014 titles, also at Albuquerque...sixth as a freshman and third last year, he can join former FSU NCAA hurdles champions Danny Smith (60yd; 1974-75), Phillip Riley (55m; 1995) and Drew Brunson (2008).
- Senior Caleb Parker and Braxton Canady join Cunningham in the 60-meter hurdles. The transfers from Southern Miss and Oregon, respectively, are not strangers to the championship stage. Parker was seventh in his indoor debut last year. Canady is making his third trip to the big show...this is the first time since 2015 that a school has qualified three in the hurdles. South Carolina did so in ’15, while Florida had three qualifiers in 2003.
- Junior Ka’Tia Seymour makes her third consecutive NCAA Indoor Championships appearance in the sprints. She is a two-event qualifier (60- and 200-meter dashes) for the first time since 2018, but is coming off a third-place finish in the 60 at the 2019 meet. Seymour hopes to deliver FSU its second NCAA indoor medal of the meet, joining 2000 champ Tonya Carter...Seymour is the No. 3 seed in the 60 and the No. 6 seed in the 200. She finished sixth in the 200 as a freshman in 2018.
- Junior Maudie Skyring is FSU’s first qualifier in the women’s mile since Colleen Quigley placed third in 2015. The Australia native and ACC runner-up will try and extend an impressive streak of 11 consecutive first-team All-American finishes (top eight) in the mile by the Noles, dating to Natalie Hughes in 2004.
- Freshman Taylor Banks and sophomore Jhevaughn Matherson will make their NCAA Indoor Championship debuts in the 60-meter dash. They are the 19th and 20th Noles to qualify in the 60-meter dash since 2005...13 of the previous 18 earned first-team All-American honors...Banks is the fifth FSU true freshman to qualify in the 60, joining Walter Dix (’05), Marvin Bracy (’13), Kendal Williams (’15) and Bryand Rincher (’19).
- Transfers Isaac Grimes and Fabian Edoki will compete in the long jump. It marks just the second time in program history - and the second time in three years - that the Noles have qualified two in the event. Kenneth Fisher and Corion Knight repped FSU at the 2018 indoor meet.
- Redshirt freshman Elizabeth Funderburk found out late Tuesday afternoon that she would be traveling to New Mexico for her first NCAA Championships appearance on the track. Funderburk was 17th on the declaration list for the 5000-meter run, but a medical scratch cleared a spot for the first-year indoor runner from South Georgia.
- The Florida State men have an opportunity to notch consecutive top-10 NCAA Indoor finishes for the first time since following up their fifth-place showing in 2011 with a tie for eighth in 2012. The Noles tied for sixth last season, marking the ninth top-10 finish under coach Bob Braman and the 10th in program history. FSU finished seventh in 1974.
- The Seminole women last finished in the top-10 back in 2011, placing ninth at the end of a four-year run of top-10 showings under Braman.

Duo making rare three-peat
Limited to just the top 16 individual in each event, the NCAA Indoor Track & Field Championships are arguably the most difficult to qualify for in all of college athletics. That makes the third consecutive appearances of juniors Trey Cunningham and Ka'Tia Seymour even more special.

Cunningham is one of only three me who have qualified for the 60-meter hurdles in each of the last three years, joining Iowa’s Jaylan McConico and LSU’s Damion Thomas.

The Noles’ star is the only member of that trio with an opportunity to make a third consecutive trip to the hurdles final. Thomas was eighth as a freshman. McConico, who qualified as a fresgman at Illinois State before transferring, has yet to make a final, though he is the No. 2 seed this year.

FSU senior Braxton Canady is also qualified for a third time, but missed the 2018 meet after qualifying as an Oregon Duck in 2017 and 2019.

Seymour’s third consecutive appearance in the 60-meter dash is even more rare. Only fellow Floridian and defending champion Tawanisha Terry of USC returns to the event for a third straight time.

Neither athlete reached the final in 2018, but Seymour chased Terry across the finish line a year ago in a bronze medal finish.

Skyring chasing greats
FSU junior Maudie Skyring has big shoes to fill in her first NCAA Indoor Championship appearance in the mile. Ranked eighth in FSU school history, the Australia native has designs on becoming the 12th Nole in 17 years to win the mile at the NCAA Indoor Championships; 7 of those 12 have been AU natives.

Seymour’s third consecutive NCAA Indoor Championships appearance in the mile is even more special.

Fabian Edoki’s and Australia. That 200 on Jan. 15 was Isaac Grimes Men’s Field Performer of the Week. On Jan. 29 they swept the 60-meter and 200-meter titles for the second consecutive year and walked off with their runaway win to the men’s ACC Indoor Championships; 7 of those 12 have been AU natives.

By the numbers
A look at the 2020 indoor season in a different kind of digital way:

10 - Number of Noles competing at the NCAA Indoor Championships; 7 men and 3 women.

3 - Florida natives representing the Noles in New Mexico: Ka’Tia Seymour, Taylor Banks and Braxton Canady.

2 - School records established: Trey Cunningham (60H, 7.51), and Ka’Tia Seymour (200, 22.92).

2x3 - Juniors Ka’Tia Seymour and Trey Cunningham are making their third consecutive NCAA Indoor Championship appearances as Noles.

4x1 - Freshman Taylor Banks, redshirt freshman Elizabeth Funderburk, sophomore Jhevaughn Matherson and junior Maudie Skyring are making their NCAA Indoor Championship debuts.

29 - Additional all-time top-10 FSU indoor marks posted. Men (17): Jhevaughn Matherson (200); DaeQwan Butler and Kyle Farrington (400); Kasey Knevelbaard and Bert Freire (mile); Steven Cross and Silas Griffin (5k); Caleb Parker, Braxton Canady and Tyrice Highman (60 hurdles); Isaac Grimes and Fabian Edoki (long jump); Sanjue Lawrence and Milton Ingraham (shot put); Parker (high jump); 4x400 and Distance Medley relays. Women (12): Ka’Tia Seymour and Jayla Kirkland (60); Janae Caldwell (400), Maudie Skyring (mile); Elizabeth Funderburk (5k), Trentorria Green (triple jump); Jazmyn Dennis and Nicole Breske (pole vault); Amani Heaven (shot put); Nadia Maffo (weight throw) and two 4x400 entries.

KEY

- BOLD - Personal Best
- ^ - FSU record
Taylor Banks, Freshman, Miramar, Fla. - 60-meter dash
Makes his NCAA Indoor Championships debut in the 60-meter dash to finish off a banner campaign...enters the meet as the No. 10 seed on the strength of his season- and personal-best time of 6.61, which he posted in the finals of the 60-meter dash at the Tiger Paw Invitational...advanced to the finals in all five meets, beginning with his debut victory a Clemson’s Orange & Purple Elite...lowered his season-best in three of his first four meets...contributed to the Noles’ ACC Indoor team title by advancing to the finals in both the 60 and 200, placing seventh and fifth, respectively...exceptional coming out of the blocks in his first collegiate season...entered senior season at Miramar High as the top 100- meter sprinter in the nation after running 10.26 as a junior...won Florida 4A state titles in both the 100 and 200 outdoors as a senior in 2019.

Braxton Canady, Senior, Jacksonville, Fla. - 60-meter hurdles
First-year Nole will make his third trip to the NCAA Indoor Championships in the 60-meter hurdles after transferring from Oregon where he finished 13th as a freshman and 14th as a junior...enjoying his finest season with the Noles, highlighted by his personal-best time of 7.70 in the ACC Indoor Championship preliminary heat, securing the No. 10 seed...contributed a third-place finish to FSU’s team title in the hurdles and ran the second leg of the Noles’ runner-up 4x400 relay team...ranks sixth on FSU’s all-time hurdles list and part of the No. 10 4x400 relay in school history...was a two-time silver medalist for the Ducks at the MPSF Championships and won the 2018 Pac-12 110-meter hurdle title...starred at Jacksonville’s Paxon High where he was the state 300-meter hurdles champion in 2017 and a two-time runner-up in the hurdles...initially recruited by FSU.

Trey Cunningham, Junior, Winfield, Ala. - 60-meter hurdles
The Florida State and ACC record-holder in the 60-meter hurdles (7.51) is unbeaten against collegiate competition in 2020 and makes his third consecutive NCAA Indoor Championships appearance as the No. 1 seed...is the first three-time champion over the 60-meter hurdles in ACC history, breaking his own meet record (7.60) while leading a 1-2-3-7 scoring haul for the Noles...has twice broken the ACC record this season, capped by his personal-best of 7.51 set at the Tiger Paw Invitational, where he was the runner-up to three-time NCAA champion and current World leader Grant Holloway...currently ranks fourth in the World and is tied for the No. 7 time on the all-time collegiate list...has been a fixture on The Bowerman Watch List this season...set the still-standing World U20 60-meter record as a high school senior.

Fabian Edoki, Senior, South Calabar, Nigeria - Long Jump
Senior transfer from Middle Tennessee State won the ACC Indoor long jump title with a season-best leap of 7.86m (25-9.5) to lock up the No. 11 seed at the NCAA Indoor Championships...currently ranks No. 6 on FSU’s all-time indoor list...set tone for Noles’ huge 32-point long jump haul at the ACC Indoor Championships, providing a springboard to the team title...no stranger to the championship stage, he finished sixth in the long jump at the 2019 NCAA Indoor meet while at MTSU...also won an NJCAA indoor long jump title in 2016 for South Plains (Texas)...competed in only three indoor meets for the Noles, improving in each outing...opened with a runner-up finish to teammate Isaac Grimes at the Vanderbilt Invitational (7.77m) and followed with second-place finish - to Grimes - at the Texas Tech Invitational (7.82m)...owns an indoor long jump PB of 8.01m.

Isaac Grimes, Junior, Moreno Valley, Calif. - Long jump
The junior transfer from Chadron (Neb.) State was the 2019 NCAA Division II indoor champion in the long jump...owns a share of the sixth-best mark in Division I this season (8.00m/26-3)...is the fourth eight-meter long jumper in Florida State history and ranks No. 4 all-time...coming off an ACC Championship runner-up finish (7.85m), just 1cm behind teammate Fabian Edoki...Noles long jumpers finish 1-2-3-4-6 at the meet, good for 32 points to help propel squad to the team title...which he established at Texas Tech Invitational...set the Clemson facility record (7.91m) in his FSU debut at the Orange & White Elite; the first of three victories to start his debut season...a five-time, first-team All-American at Chadron State, he also advanced to the finals at the 2019 USATF National Championships last summer in Des Moines, Iowa, placing ninth.
2020 NCAA Men's Qualifiers

Jhevaughn Matherson, Sophomore, Kingston, Jamaica - 60-meter dash
Sophomore stepped up and into the spotlight in 2020, earning his first individual event NCAA Championships berth when he ran 6.61 in the semifinals of the 60-meter dash at the ACC Indoor Championships...followed up a third-place 60-meter finish with a silver medal in the 200 with a PB of 20.88, which ranks 10th in FSU history...his 14 points led all FSU track athletes as the Noles won their third consecutive ACC team title...shares a piece of the 10th-best time nationally with teammate Taylor Banks, but is seeded 12th in New Mexico...came into the year with a 60 PB of 6.71, but has improved each meet, beginning with his 6.65 at the Texas Tech Invitational and followed by a 6.63 at the Tiger Paw Invitational...as a freshman handled second leg on FSU's NCAA Outdoor runner-up 4x100 (38.08)...Jamaican star set his country's youth 100-meter record (10.25) in 2016.

Caleb Parker, Senior, Stafford, Texas - 60-meter hurdles
The senior transfer from Southern Miss has enjoyed a breakout season with the Noles, lowering his 60-meter hurdles personal-best to 7.61, which is tied for third-fastest nationally and good for the No. 4 seed...ranks fourth all-time among Noles in the 60 hurdles...one of three FSU qualifiers in the hurdles, is out to improve on his seventh-place finish at the 2019 NCAA Indoor Championships...has four runner-up 60 hurdles finishes this season behind teammate and top-ranked Trey Cunningham, including the ACC Indoor Championships two weeks ago, when the Noles went 1-2-3-7 in the finals to break the meet open...has eclipsed or matched his previous PB (7.71) seven times in 12 rounds this season...was fifth in 110 hurdles at 2019 NCAA Championships...also posted career-best high jump (2.20m) this season...was the 2016 Texas 4A 110-meter hurdles champion.

2020 NCAA Women’s Qualifiers

Ka’Tia Seymour, Junior, Palatka, Fla. - 60- & 200-meter dash
Third-time NCAA Indoor qualifier, securing qualifying marks by sweeping the ACC Indoor 60-meter and 200-meter dash titles for the second consecutive year in lifetime-bests and facility records at Notre Dame...enters meet as the No. 3 seed in the 60 (7.17) and No. 6 in the 200 (22.82)...is the first three-time ACC Indoor Championship Women’s Track MVP...broke both the ACC Championships meet and own school record in the 200...her 7.17 in the 60 final is good for a share of No. 2 on FSU’s all-time list behind 2000 NCAA champion Tonya Carter...the first Nole to win three consecutive conference titles in the same event on the track...marks the second time as a two-event (60, 200) NCAA Indoor qualifier after placing sixth (200) and 13th (60) in 2018...was third-place finisher in 60 at 2019 NCAA Indoor meet...already a nine-time All-American, she set ACC records in the 100 and as the 4x100 anchor at the 2019 NCAA Outdoor Championships.

Maudie Skyring, Junior, Wollongong, Australia - Mile
Makes her first NCAA Championship appearance on the track, capping season which saw her lower her personal-best in the mile on three separate occasions...was ACC runner-up in the mile with a personal-best qualifying time of 4:37.26, checking in at No. 13 in the field...ranks No. 8 all-time among FSU women in the mile...first Nole woman to qualify for the mile since Colleen Quigley finished sixth and third, respectively, in back-to-back appearances (2014-2015)...dipped under 4:40 three times this season including Bob Pollock Invitational (4:39.29), David Hemery Valentine Invitational (4:37.64) and the ACC Indoor final...enjoying finest season as a Nole after leading cross country team to second consecutive NCAA South Region title and NCAA Championship appearance...earned All-ACC and All-South Region honors...two-time NCAA East Preliminary qualifier in the 1500, carries plenty momentum into outdoor season as she looks to improve on her personal-best of 4:16.12.

Elizabeth Funderburk, RS-Freshman, Moultrie, Ga. - 5000 meter run
A late addition to the field, she makes her NCAA Championship debut on the track in the 5,000-meter run. Qualified by running 16:05.56 at Boston University’s David Hemery Valentine Invitational, where she placed sixth while recording the fifth-fastest time in program history...placed 10th in the 5,000 and ninth in the 3,000 at the ACC Championships...earned All-ACC and All-South Region cross country honors, helping the Noles to their second consecutive South Region title and trip to the NCAA Championships...came within 10 seconds and three positions of advancing to the NCAA Outdoor Championships in the 10,000-meter run as a true freshman last year...is FSU's first 5,000-meter indoor qualifier since 2014 teammates Hannah Walker and Pippa Woolven finished ninth and 13th in Albuquerque.
